The Li River, or Li Jiang, is in Guilin, in South China's Guangxi Province. It is renowned as being one of "the world's top 10 watery wonders" according to National Geographic. The Li River cruise from Guilin to Yangshuo boasts the most beautiful scenery. Along the 86-kilometer waterway, you will see karst peaks, grazing water buffalo, farmers working in the fields, and traditional villages nestled at the bases of the hills.

XingPing, 25 kilometers northeast of Yangshuo, is located on the eastern bank of Li River. It is one of the most beautiful ancient towns along the river. With a history of more than 1300 years, the historical and cultural relics in the town remain intact. They include slab-stone streets, the ruins of Xingping County of the Southern and Northern Dynasties, the buildings of the Ming and Qing Dynasties, and so on.

The Ruyi Peak, this is new spot is spectacular for the ropeway (3km away from Moon hill and on the way to the Silver Cave). Along the various mountain bodies of the ropeway in the scenic area, construction projects are built, including glass-bottomed skywalk, love-ring bridge, mountain crafting mirror, cliff dwellings, and other beautiful landscapes, where visitors can stroll along with leisure and fully experience the fun when traveling through the mountains.

Yulong River, a tributary of Li River in Guilin, winding for about 43.5 kilometers in total is praised as the best essence of Yangshuo to fully savor the beauty of Guilin typical rising mushroom-like hills of Karst landform, pleasant landscape resembling Chinese ink brush paintings, and a rich array of outdoor activity experience to enrich your Yangshuo days with the best merry mood! Furthermore, highly treated by experts home and abroad as "first-class natural heritage of human in the world" and the "Little Li River"

West Street is the oldest street in Yangshuo with a history of more than 1,400 years. It now becomes a place that mixes the eastern and western culture harmoniously. West Street in Yangshuo has developed into the most prosperous area in Yangshuo. The signboards of all the stores and restaurants on this street have foreign names written on them, and foreigners are seen here and there.
